

SONG FOR IRELAND

*WORDS AND MUSIC BY LIANNA KLASSEN
© 2009 STONE TABLE PUBLISHING*

There's a cry across this nation
That stirs in the ancient
Paths and streams, a cry of peace
A cry of hope for every man
And it whispers through the mountains
And sings upon the breezes
A song that's never silent
For it's the call of this Land

CHORUS

I hear the sound of their voices in the rain
I hear them echoing down from age to age
Like an ember glowing bright
That will burst to flame,
Consume the night
And the light of this Land will rise again.

VERSE 2

Across the generations,
The prayers of Saints and sinners
Are heard in the voice of our children once again
And it echoes through the valleys
And resonates on the waters
A time of forgiveness, that will bring a brand new day!

CHORUS

BRIDGE

So Father God forgive us, and show us your mercy
Revive this generation and heal our land
And when we are discouraged
Break our hearts with Your love
And hear this song for Ireland.

CHORUS 2

I hear the sound of your voice in the rain
I hear it echoing down from age to age
Like an ember glowing bright
That will burst to flame,
Consume the night
And the light of this Land will rise again.
And the light of this Land will rise again
And the light of this Land will rise again
Oh the light of this Land is rising.....again.